Heathen Idols contrasted with Jehovah

"8 They that make idols shall be like unto them; yea, every one that trust in them. 9 O Israel, trust in Jehovah; he is their help and their shield. 10 O house of Aaron, trust in Jehovah; he is their help and their shield."

Happy Father's Day 2015

Through the years I have made it a practice to write assessments of life as I turn a new age. It is amazing how one's perspective changes through the years. I can remember having certain expectations of everyone's children and when those expectations were not met I drew undue conclusions about everyone involved. I was one of those people that had unrealistic expectations of myself, my family, and everyone else. I also remember having unrealistic opinions about the local preachers I listened to. These men were held at such a high standard that if I saw or heard one of them going on their lunch break to exercise I condemned them. From my perspective they should have been evangelizing 24-7.

Time ought to bring about wisdom in all of our lives. I would like to take you through a progression of my fatherly steps of maturity in this short article (I'm still working on this).
Welcome to all Our Visitors.
It is our prayer that you will be edified by our worship service today. If you have any questions regarding what we teach or practice please be our friend and talk with us.

Happy Father’s Day to all our dads this morning! I pray that you have a blessed day and give God thanks for all the wonderful people in your life!

We will have a men’s business meeting Sunday, July 5, immediately after worship service.

Keep the prisoners that John studies with in your prayers.

Summer vacation time has arrived! Please do remember the traveling in your prayers.

Remember our Shut ins

I have come to learn that children do not stay cute and little for ever. Yes it is true, even though they are a lot of fun as little children.

I have learned that being a father doesn’t happen automatically. My biggest failures in being a dad through the years was expecting my children to be like me without the work. I just thought it would happen. It doesn’t work that way. The more I see differences between us the greater my hurt. I have to remind myself that all have to come to conclusions on their own lest it be nothing but someone else’s faith.

I have experienced my greatest success in being a dad when I spent time with my kids. Whether that time was attending worship, Bible study, coaching, vacationing, or just one on one talking.

My advice to any new dad starting out is to not go empty when the child gets out of the fun little stage of life. Grow with your child. Learn NOW to put away your remote control to the television, your lap top computer, your earphones, and your personal recreation at the appropriate time. It breaks my heart to know that there were times in my life that I should have been better at doing that. I love my kids with all my heart. God has richly blessed me (Psalms 127:5). If you are a dad today you too are blessed!

Psalms 112

1 Praise the LORD! Blessed is the man who fears the LORD, who greatly delights in his commandments!

2 His offspring will be mighty in the land; the generation of the upright will be blessed. 3 Wealth and riches are in his house, and his righteousness endures forever. 4 Light dawns in the darkness for the upright; he is gracious, merciful, and righteous. 5 It is well with the man who deals generously and lends; who conducts his affairs with justice. 6 For the righteous will never be moved; he will be remembered forever. 7 He is not afraid of bad news; his heart is firm, trusting in the LORD. 8 His heart is steady; he will not be afraid, until he looks in triumph on his adversaries. 9 He has distributed freely; he has given to the poor; his righteousness endures forever; his horn is exalted in honor. 10 The wicked man sees it and is angry; he gnashes his teeth and melts away; the desire of the wicked will perish!
