HOLLYWOOD, January 18, 2006 (LifeSiteNews.com) – This time, "Hollywood has gone way too far," according to Stephen Bennett, Host of Straight Talk Radio, who is critical of Hollywood's decision to award four Golden Globe awards to the homosexual cowboy movie, "Brokeback Mountain."

"Hollywood has sunk to an all-time moral low," Bennett emphasized. "I guess 2006 will be known as 'The Year of the Homosexual' in Hollywood. With 'Brokeback Mountain,' 'TransAmerica' and 'Capote' winning several major 'gender-bender' Golden Globes - Hollywood is no doubt 'out' on a mission to 'homosexualize America.'"

Felicity Huffman, a star in the television series Desperate Housewives, won best actress for her role as a male who undergoes a sex change operation in the movie Transamerica. Philip Seymour Hoffman won best actor for his portrayal of homosexual Truman Capote, author of Breakfast at Tiffany's, in the movie Capote.

Bennett, a former homosexual of 11 years, along with his wife and co-host Irene, led the charge in sounding the alarm nationally on "Brokeback Mountain" upon its release this past December. He isn't surprised at all about last night's celebration of homosexuality and transsexuality at the Golden Globe, though. Bennett says in Hollywood today, anything other than heterosexuality is "chic."

"When Hollywood is pumping out anti-family movies with sexually explicit, twisted and perverse themes that glorify homosexuality, transsexuality and every other kind of sexual immorality – then awards itself for doing so – middle America better take note. Last night, Hollywood exposed its own corrupt agenda." Bennett added. "With the Oscars just around the corner, don't be surprised this year if you see Hollywood's elite walking down the 'Pink Carpet.'"

"Conservatives and middle America are frankly sick of having the homosexual agenda continually shoved down our throats by the media," Bennett said. His message to Hollywood: "Give it a break - a permanent one." Dr. Janice Shaw Crouse, Senior Fellow of the Beverly LaHaye Institute at Concerned Women for America commented on the awards: "Once again, the media elites are proving that their pet projects are more important than profit."

Crouse explained that none of the three movies, Capote, Transamerica or Brokeback Mountain, is a box office hit. "Brokeback Mountain has barely topped $25 million in ticket sales," she said. "While it has recouped all the production costs, it is doubtful that receipts have covered the massive PR costs." Crouse concluded, "If America isn't watching these films, why are they winning the awards?"

Editors Note:

The apostle Paul states, "Do you not know that the unrighteous will not inherit the kingdom of God? Do not be deceived. Neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor homosexuals, nor sodomites... will not inherit the kingdom of God" (NKJV).

The apostle Paul tells us that those who take pleasure in unrighteousness "believe not the truth" (II Thess. 2:12). Young people, if you are watching these shows and gaining entertainment from them know assuredly that you are consenting to their wickedness. After pronouncing homosexuality a "vile passion" (Rom. 1:26-27), the apostle Paul states, "who, knowing the ordinance of God, that they that practice such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but also consent with them that practice them" (Rom. 1:32).

Beloved brethren, let not the entertainment of fools find a place of interest within your heart.
